Other News

From the Library Management Section Chair, Sandra Causey:

I came into chairing this section in February this year after this section had been dormant for a while. It has been a short year but a great one. We were able to put together an awesome presentation for SCLA called "The Politics of Leading Libraries" presented by Todd Stephens, Director of Spartanburg Libraries and Dwight McInvaill, Director of Georgetown Libraries. The presentation was a huge hit and hilarious! Please see the pictures below.

This upcoming year is going to be exciting, and we have some great ideas for programming throughout the year and at next year's conference. I am also hoping to recruit more officers this year. I'll soon be sending out surveys to our section to get feedback about what everyone would like to see. I look forward to this next year!
